

SHARKS OF GIANT SIZE FOUND ALONG COASTS

National Geographic Society Describes Man-Eater and Several Other Varieties.

The tragic depredations of man-eating sharks along the Atlantic seaboard lend an especially timely interest to a communication from Dr. Hugh M. Smith, the foremost American authority on the fishes, addressed to the National Geographic Society and released as a Bulletin.

"When giant fishes are mentioned most people will at once think of the shark, among which, indeed, are found the largest fish now existing," writes Dr. Smith. "Of the many species of sharks noteworthy on account of their size, there are about half a dozen which are pre-eminent. These differ much in their disposition, some being as harmless as doves and others the incarnation of ferocity.

Six Times as Large as Man. "The sleeper shark (Somniosus microcephalus), whose scientific name fits it so admirably, appears to have developed its body at the expense of its brain, for it is sluggish, stupid, gluttonous, about six times as long as an average man. At home in the arctic regions, it sometimes makes visits as far south as Cape Cod, the British Isles and Oregon. It is most often observed lying quietly on the surface, apparently asleep, but when approached, it rises, and, with a sudden, powerful stroke of its tail, it seizes its prey, and, with a few powerful bites, it has devoured the victim.

Man-Eater Most Formidable. "One of the most prodigious and perhaps the most formidable of sharks is the 'man-eater' (Carcharodon carcharias). It roams through all temperate and tropical seas and everywhere is an object of dread. Its maximum length is forty feet and its teeth are few and authentic instances of sharks attacking human beings prior to the recent tragedy, there have undoubtedly been many cases where sharks simply swallowed people who had fallen overboard, just as they would swallow any other food. How easy it would be for a man-eater to devour a person whole may be judged from the finding of an entire hundred-pound sea lion in the stomach of a thirty-foot shark on the California coast. A certain man-eater thirty-six and one-half feet long had jaws twenty inches wide, inside measure, and teeth twenty and one-half inches long. This may have been the 'great fish' of the Scripture narrative, and it is possible that at that time much larger man-eaters than are now known, as shark teeth with cutting edges five inches long have been found on the sea bottom, and these are believed by naturalists to have belonged to sharks not long dead. The phosphate beds of South Carolina yield very large fossil teeth of a shark which was related to the man-eater of the present day, and the comparative size of these teeth. Prof. Goode thought that sharks seventy or eighty feet long must have been common.

"Great Fish" That Swallowed Jonah. "Many years ago a Norwegian bishop in a learned paper brought to the attention of the scientific and theological worlds a shark which he attempted to prove must have been the great fish that swallowed Jonah. This was the basking shark (Cetorhinus maximus), known also as the elephant or bone shark, which is an inhabitant of the polar seas, but occasionally strays as far south as Virginia or California, and in former years was not rare in the United States and British coasts. The species has the habit at times of collecting in schools at the surface and basking in the sun with its back partly out of water. It reaches a maximum length of about fifty feet and is exceedingly voracious, feeding on fish, crustaceans, and is not of a ferocious disposition. It is dangerous only by virtue of its great bulk and when attacked its powerful tail easily demolishes boats. In former years the basking shark was hunted for its oil on the coast of Norway and Ireland; it also was harpooned by the shore of Massachusetts in the early part of the last century, and as many as twelve barrels of oil were obtained from a single shark. There are many records of basking sharks twenty-five to thirty-eight feet long from the coast of New York, Massachusetts and Maine, but the species has not been common in our waters in recent years.

Largest of All. "The largest of all fishes, the largest of all cold-blooded animals and the largest of all existing creatures, with the exception of a few species of whales, is the whale shark (Rhincodon typicus), originally described from Good Hope, but now known from India, Japan, South America, Panama, California and various other places, a small specimen having been obtained on the Florida coast a few years ago. This shark has a very broad and obtuse snout and an exceedingly wide mouth, armed with numerous minute teeth; the dark-colored body is marked with many small whitish spots. The species is stated to be harmless to man unless attacked, and feeds on the small creatures for which its teeth are adapted. Its huge bulk makes it dangerous in the same way that a whale is dangerous. Years ago it was reported that the sperm whale fishermen at the island of St. Denis, in the Indian ocean, dreaded to harpoon a whale shark by mistake, and it was told of a harpooned fish, having by a lightning-like dive exhausted the supply of rope which had been accidentally fastened to the boat, diving deeper still, and so pulled a pigrope and crew to the bottom."

STRIKEN AT STATION. Mrs. John H. Andrews of Boyds, Md., Taken Suddenly Ill.

BOYDS, Md., July 15.—Mrs. John H. Andrews of Boyds, while standing in the Baltimore and Ohio station here yesterday afternoon waiting for a train, was taken seriously ill and had to be carried to her home. She is threatened with paralysis. Her condition is somewhat better today. She is the mother of Private Raymond Andrews, who is in Company K, 1st Regiment, Maryland National Guard, now at Eagle Pass, Tex.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad is laying three miles of 100-pound steel rail from University, D. C., to Silver Spring, Md., and one mile of the same weight rail between Boyds and Barnesville.

John R. Lewis, president of the board of county commissioners for Montgomery county, will direct in a few weeks, the resurfacing of the five miles of road from Boyds to Clarkburg, and also treat it with oil. This mile was damaged by the heavy rains of April and May.

JULY CLEARANCE SALE

POINTS THE WAY TO DOLLAR-SAVING

STORE HOURS: 8:15 TO 5.

Satisfaction First

810-16 SEVENTH ST.

Choice-of-the-House

Suits Worth up to $15.00

Suits Worth up to $30.00

Our Entire Stock of High-Class Cloth Suits Going at Two Astonishingly Riddance Prices—

10c Wash Ribbon, 6 1/2c Bolt

10c Kayser's 75c Gloves, 49c

69c Double-bed Sheets, 35c

10c Shoe Polish, 7c

25c Oilcloth, 17c

$1.25 Table-Cloths, 69c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

10c Unbleached Sheeting, 5 1/2c

ACTIVE GERM HUNT SPREADS OVER CITY

Health Officials Will Banish All Conditions That May Invite an Epidemic.

TO LEAVE NO FOOTHOLD FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Annual Leaves Canceled for All Members of Food and Sanitary Inspection Force Here.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THOSE WHO WAR ON DISEASE

Keep on the lookout for insanitary conditions and abate them wherever possible; if they are not on your own premises report them to the health department.

Unclean conditions on public property, such as streets and alleys, should be reported to the street cleaning department.

Nuisances developing from obstructed or leaking sewers should be reported to the sewer department.

If a leaky or obstructed sewer is within the boundaries of private property the nuisance should be reported to the health department.

Discovery of dead animals should be reported to the street cleaning department. If the discovery is made after the close of the official working day, at 4:30 p.m., report the fact to the health department, which keeps a representative on duty at the District building until 11 p.m.

When in doubt as to what constitutes a nuisance or what department of the District government to communicate with relative to its abatement, call upon the health department, Main 6000.

Confident that the best way to save Washington from an epidemic of infantile paralysis is to put the city in as sanitary a condition as possible, the health department, under direction of Dr. John L. Weaver, assistant health officer, is making every effort toward a thorough cleaning up of the capital.

Annual leaves have been canceled for all the members of the food and sanitary inspection force, so that every available man in the department can be pressed into the clean-up work.

In addition to this, Dr. Arthur L. Murray, who had been detailed by the Commissioners to special work in connection with the playgrounds department, has been ordered to make a special investigation of conditions in the sections

CHILDREN OF NEW YORK LEAVE NO PERMIT FOR PROGRESSIVES CALLED FOR NEW CONVENTION

Federal Health Service Measures Safeguard Other States Against Paralysis.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Federal health officials today began regulating interstate travel of children out of New York, in an effort to allay alarm occasioned by other states by the epidemic of infantile paralysis in this city.

Dr. Charles E. Banks, senior surgeon of the United States public health service, announced that children leaving New York will be examined and certificates of travel will be issued to safeguard other states from danger of the epidemic.

Dr. Banks said he and his assistants, Drs. E. W. Brown and C. B. Gardner, will gather all available information concerning the epidemic, and health officials of other states will be supplied with exact facts from day to day.

Work Purely Interstate. "We are simply looking after the interstate phase of the epidemic and are not to have charge, or to have any say locally," Dr. Banks declared. "Our work will be purely interstate and not intrastate—that is, we will not have anything to do with the travel of persons from one point to another inside of this state, but only when they leave New York to go to another state."

City health officials welcomed the federal surgeons in the hope that by providing the leaders for "steam-roller" data the quarantine established against New York will be lifted. Local officials said that the epidemic against the spread of the disease to other states have been so thorough that danger has not been feared.

Dr. Banks and his aids conferred with Health Commissioner Emerson for an hour. The federal men were given all information in possession of the city health authorities.

For a Fight to the Finish. "There is no occasion for the public being alarmed," said Dr. Norris last night, "but there is every reason why it should buckle on its armor for a fight to the finish on the deadly germ-carrying house fly and an effective clean-up campaign that not only will reduce the likelihood of the development and spread of infantile paralysis, but will serve as a strong safeguard against the development of other infectious diseases. Every indication is that the public is co-operating with us, and I believe the ultimate results will be most gratifying."

REPORT DUE TOMORROW. Detailed Findings of Infantile Paralysis Investigation Expected.

A detailed report by Surgeon C. H. Lavin, in charge of the infantile paralysis investigation of the infantile paralysis epidemic in New York, to the public health service, is expected tomorrow by the bureau here, giving a complete record and history of the epidemic. It is expected that by tomorrow the ten members of the food and sanitary inspection force will have put in force the program for prevention of interstates spread of the disease.

Reports from all over the country indicate that the epidemic has been confined to New York, except for sporadic cases that cannot be traced to the New York outbreak.

Makes for Better Living. "It is making for better living, greater stability in values and a more abiding confidence in real estate as an investment. It is taking hoarded savings and putting them in circulation, while giving the small owner not only a better profit on his money, but a solid bulwark against misfortune which no panic or financial upheaval can sweep away. It is lifting a business which has been languishing, and making it synonymous with respectability to the proud place of honor it deserves. The expert in real estate is performing a service not only for his calling, but for his community, which none who know of its value will deny is worthy of any reasonable reward he chooses to ask."

The expert real estate dealer should be the dominant factor in the community. He can be so only when he puts service before self. Not only should he be willing to serve his fellows with service as a basis, but he should be willing to labor for and abide by all such restrictions and conditions as will prevent incompetent hands from attempting his tasks.

On a High Plane. "He should be an ardent advocate and worker for high license. He should strive to have the same high plane required of him and his kind as the state requires of those who practice medicine, surgery or dentistry. He should welcome a severe penalty for men who themselves refuse to accept the same without adequate preparation and an examination by legally constituted authorities as to their fitness. He should be not only willing, but happy that a government which demands safe conditions in all banks, which supervises all public financial institutions from national depositories to insurance companies, will investigate his work and demand of him a standard knowledge which will guarantee constructive service to the client."

"Only thus can a business which is fundamental to human welfare and happiness prosper in the truest sense."

ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENTS. Department Commander Harris, U. S. W. V., Names Subordinate Officers.

Lee H. Harris, recently elected commander of the Department of the District of Columbia, United Spanish War Veterans, has made announcement of his appointments in the first general orders he issued from the department headquarters. The officers have been filled as follows: Chief of staff, John A. Gallagher; adjutant, H. B. Coulter; quartermaster, John Farmer; assistant adjutant, Howard E. Chase; assistant quartermaster, John A. Stoll; judge advocate, Jere A. Costello; historian, W. L. Mattocks; installing officer, William T. Heritage; chaplain, John A. Longstreet; Sheridan, John A. Fenstede; John F. Mahoney; John Murphy and Clarence Mathias.

The chairman of committees appointed are: Committee on charity and relief, William H. Hudson; committee on employment, Richard L. Lamb; committee on legislation, James E. Maynard; committee on audits, C. L. Brockway; committee on public relations, John A. Murphy; Maine memorial committee, H. C. Wilson; and committee on Memorial day, Charles J. F. Delozes.

Delozes selected to the national encampment from the Department of the District of Columbia are James J. Murphy, R. E. Adams, W. T. Heritage and William J. Sammond. The encampment is to convene at Chicago, Ill., September 4.

Leaves $4,000 to Her Sister. By the terms of the will of Mrs. Marie Prince Greer, dated December 5, 1910, a bequest of $4,000 is made to her sister, Katie L. Prince, who is also to have the household effects and personal chattels, which came from their mother. The remaining estate is to be distributed equally among the three children of the testatrix, Marie T. Greer, R. E. Adams, and John A. Greer, the husband, Edward R. Greer, and the sister, Katie L. Prince, are named as executors.

CHILDREN OF NEW YORK LEAVE NO PERMIT FOR PROGRESSIVES CALLED FOR NEW CONVENTION

Federal Health Service Measures Safeguard Other States Against Paralysis.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Federal health officials today began regulating interstate travel of children out of New York, in an effort to allay alarm occasioned by other states by the epidemic of infantile paralysis in this city.

Dr. Charles E. Banks, senior surgeon of the United States public health service, announced that children leaving New York will be examined and certificates of travel will be issued to safeguard other states from danger of the epidemic.

Dr. Banks said he and his assistants, Drs. E. W. Brown and C. B. Gardner, will gather all available information concerning the epidemic, and health officials of other states will be supplied with exact facts from day to day.

Work Purely Interstate. "We are simply looking after the interstate phase of the epidemic and are not to have charge, or to have any say locally," Dr. Banks declared. "Our work will be purely interstate and not intrastate—that is, we will not have anything to do with the travel of persons from one point to another inside of this state, but only when they leave New York to go to another state."

City health officials welcomed the federal surgeons in the hope that by providing the leaders for "steam-roller" data the quarantine established against New York will be lifted. Local officials said that the epidemic against the spread of the disease to other states have been so thorough that danger has not been feared.

Dr. Banks and his aids conferred with Health Commissioner Emerson for an hour. The federal men were given all information in possession of the city health authorities.

For a Fight to the Finish. "There is no occasion for the public being alarmed," said Dr. Norris last night, "but there is every reason why it should buckle on its armor for a fight to the finish on the deadly germ-carrying house fly and an effective clean-up campaign that not only will reduce the likelihood of the development and spread of infantile paralysis, but will serve as a strong safeguard against the development of other infectious diseases. Every indication is that the public is co-operating with us, and I believe the ultimate results will be most gratifying."

REPORT DUE TOMORROW. Detailed Findings of Infantile Paralysis Investigation Expected.

A detailed report by Surgeon C. H. Lavin, in charge of the infantile paralysis investigation of the infantile paralysis epidemic in New York, to the public health service, is expected tomorrow by the bureau here, giving a complete record and history of the epidemic. It is expected that by tomorrow the ten members of the food and sanitary inspection force will have put in force the program for prevention of interstates spread of the disease.

Reports from all over the country indicate that the epidemic has been confined to New York, except for sporadic cases that cannot be traced to the New York outbreak.

Makes for Better Living. "It is making for better living, greater stability in values and a more abiding confidence in real estate as an investment. It is taking hoarded savings and putting them in circulation, while giving the small owner not only a better profit on his money, but a solid bulwark against misfortune which no panic or financial upheaval can sweep away. It is lifting a business which has been languishing, and making it synonymous with respectability to the proud place of honor it deserves. The expert in real estate is performing a service not only for his calling, but for his community, which none who know of its value will deny is worthy of any reasonable reward he chooses to ask."

The expert real estate dealer should be the dominant factor in the community. He can be so only when he puts service before self. Not only should he be willing to serve his fellows with service as a basis, but he should be willing to labor for and abide by all such restrictions and conditions as will prevent incompetent hands from attempting his tasks.

On a High Plane. "He should be an ardent advocate and worker for high license. He should strive to have the same high plane required of him and his kind as the state requires of those who practice medicine, surgery or dentistry. He should welcome a severe penalty for men who themselves refuse to accept the same without adequate preparation and an examination by legally constituted authorities as to their fitness. He should be not only willing, but happy that a government which demands safe conditions in all banks, which supervises all public financial institutions from national depositories to insurance companies, will investigate his work and demand of him a standard knowledge which will guarantee constructive service to the client."

"Only thus can a business which is fundamental to human welfare and happiness prosper in the truest sense."

ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENTS. Department Commander Harris, U. S. W. V., Names Subordinate Officers.

Lee H. Harris, recently elected commander of the Department of the District of Columbia, United Spanish War Veterans, has made announcement of his appointments in the first general orders he issued from the department headquarters. The officers have been filled as follows: Chief of staff, John A. Gallagher; adjutant, H. B. Coulter; quartermaster, John Farmer; assistant adjutant, Howard E. Chase; assistant quartermaster, John A. Stoll; judge advocate, Jere A. Costello; historian, W. L. Mattocks; installing officer, William T. Heritage; chaplain, John A. Longstreet; Sheridan, John A. Fenstede; John F. Mahoney; John Murphy and Clarence Mathias.

The chairman of committees appointed are: Committee on charity and relief, William H. Hudson; committee on employment, Richard L. Lamb; committee on legislation, James E. Maynard; committee on audits, C. L. Brockway; committee on public relations, John A. Murphy; Maine memorial committee, H. C. Wilson; and committee on Memorial day, Charles J. F. Delozes.

Delozes selected to the national encampment from the Department of the District of Columbia are James J. Murphy, R. E. Adams, W. T. Heritage and William J. Sammond. The encampment is to convene at Chicago, Ill., September 4.

Leaves $4,000 to Her Sister. By the terms of the will of Mrs. Marie Prince Greer, dated December 5, 1910, a bequest of $4,000 is made to her sister, Katie L. Prince, who is also to have the household effects and personal chattels, which came from their mother. The remaining estate is to be distributed equally among the three children of the testatrix, Marie T. Greer, R. E. Adams, and John A. Greer, the husband, Edward R. Greer, and the sister, Katie L. Prince, are named as executors.

PROGRESSIVES CALLED FOR NEW CONVENTION

John M. Parker Says the Bull Moose "Led His Loyal Followers Into the Wilderness."

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—A statement and call to "the patriotic men and women of America" to hold a new national convention of the progressive party in Chicago August 5, and nominate candidates for President and Vice President, and continue the party's existence as a distinct political organization, was issued here tonight by John M. Parker, vice presidential nominee of the progressive convention held in Chicago last June. He urges the progressives to "eternally bury" the bull moose, which, he asserts, "led his loyal followers into the wilderness," and to adopt in its place the American eagle as the emblem of the party.

Mr. Parker does not mention Col. Roosevelt or any other progressive leaders or any candidates by name. He declares, however, that the progressives had as supposed leaders "red-blooded Americans, who promised with their life blood, to stand with the party to the death, but that the party had been deserted by a large part of its officers, who could not stand the acid test. He urged that the leaders for "steam-roller" reasons have elected to be steam-roller, and that the time has come when the party must work for the welfare and the future of America should unite against both dominant parties. In criticism of the party, the speaker indirectly refers to Charles E. Hughes, republican candidate for President, as a splendid man, selected by the republicans to be the mask behind which they hope to again secure control of state and nation.

Mr. Parker declares that he does not want to see the party split, and he states his willingness to withdraw as the progressive candidate for Vice President and labor the ranks and on the stump to prove his loyalty to progressive principles. His inclusion in the list of candidates is intended to mean that the party is to be unreservedly pledged for woman suffrage, and the woman's party, and that the states are invited to join the progressive party and work for its success in the coming election.

Statement of Mr. Parker. Mr. Parker's statement, in part, follows: To the patriotic men and women of America: The progressive ship has been deserted by a large part of its officers. They could not stand the acid test. Their assurance "never to abandon the principles to which we progressives pledged ourselves," never to alter their solemn "contract with the people," proved empty words—a mere scrap of paper. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars and the moon, to look upward, and a constant reminder to be true to those sterling principles which have made America great. The republicans have seized upon this and have used it to lead us into the wilderness—and there deserted them. Let us eternally bury their empty words, and let us unite against the party that has deserted us. The progressive party, the national bird, the American eagle, which will lead us to the stars